“ Chad, our love is something eternal; the aspect may change, but not the essence. I just want you to know that the more connections you and I made, not just between our bodies, but between our minds, our hearts, and our souls, the more we strengthened the fabric of our relationship, and the more real moments we were able to experience together. I will forever cherish each and every moment we had together creating memories of us and our life together. I love you deeply and you gave me strength but being loved by you gave me courage. Your happiness was always essential to my own I love you and miss you so very much and I will forever be looking forward to the day that we will be together again.

“ I am going to miss you greatly Chad. I feel horrible that I cannot be at the funeral today but because of the horrible weather, it is just not safe. Gosh I remember talking to you like every day when you were gone with the Army about all the things you planned to do when you got home and how much you missed Connor. Or going out to the bar with you or just hanging out with Chris and I. My thoughts are with your family. You will always be close to my heart buddy!

“ Life Asunder

*A beautiful life ended without a thought,
could he have been told, could he have been taught?*

*This we'll never know, as we didn't get the chance,
O' how much he'll be missed, this brother of the dance.*

*I'll never understand it, I don't think any really can,
the trials and tirbulations, of this young man.*

*so to give this event meaning, and not a wasted life,
I propose we all learn someting, form his hidden strife.*

*Embrace every day, let mere breath be your joy,
Savor every moment, you might have with your boy.*

let not your heart be troubled, bout the minor things in your day, for every trouble passes, and teaches us in it's own way.

*it may seem truly dark, with nothing but trouble to come,
but every day lived, allows grand things to be done*

*Farewell and gods speed brother, you'll be missed in this life, now this has some meaning, perhaps it'll save someone from the

We have many, many wonderful memories and funny stories. I may get back here to relate one or two later.
