“ My dad was my hero! I learned a lot about cars from him. I always loved to help him around the house. He could fix anything and we could tell if it was going well or not by how much he was cussing. He was always there for me no matter what. I'm not sure what I'm going to do without him. He helped me raise my oldest son and he has always considered him his dad also they were close. He always made sure my kids had what they needed and then some. He was the best Grandpa and an amazing supportive Dad to us. I love him so much. I miss him every day and it's still hard to believe that he's gone. I loved to visit, sit, and listen to him talk. Dad always had the best stories. He was always so funny and sarcastic that's where we get it from. I could go on forever about how much I love and miss my dad. I know that I'll see him again one day, until then I will do my best to continue to make my dad proud.

“ My dad will forever remain my best friend the only person I could talk to about anything. I will always remember our 10:30 coffee dates and his amazing stories. The years we went up north camping: fishing together, our camp fires, the pizza parties...I got so many good happy memories. I learned an array of colorful swear words growing up while Dad worked on cars his temper was actually hilarious but that was his passion. The time Amber and I painted his toe nails and made him pretty when I was five still cracks me up. I could literally write a book about all the good times! Not everyone has as good of a Dad as I had. I will forever keep my dad close to my heart, because Dad always gave all three of us girls and our mom his unconditional love always.
