“ Several years ago Ed was on the State Bar Appellate Practice Section Council with me. I am saddened to learn of his passing, but relieved to know that his suffering through these last years is over. I always marveled at Ed's fortitude in the face of his medical issues.##imported-begin##Victor Valenti##imported-end##

“ Dear Kay,I am so very sorry to hear of Ed's passing. I had just reviewed many emails from my time at the Commission and was reminded of all the hard work and the many improvements he accomplished while he was there. I recalled the times you had us over to your home and your gracious hospitality. The earliest thing I can remember Ed saying to me, in 1993, when I came to the Commission, was one of my first days when I brought in a batch of cookies I'd made. He'd tried one and called out, She's a keeper! He also took the time, politically, to introduce me to significant people in the Lansing area for which I was grateful. My thoughts and prayers are with you and your son through this pain and difficult transition to life without Ed. May God's peace rest on you. Sincerely, Joy Witte##imported-begin##Joy L. “ Peace be with you, Kay and James! How sad I am for the loss of your life partner, Kay, and of your father, James. In addition to the impact he made on the two of you, Ed walked the path from death to life --meeting, mingling and ministering to countless individuals, including me. He is memorable as a quick-wit character and a charmer, as well as a witness to his faith. He will be remembered for his exceptional ethics and for his commitment to family and friends. I am grateful to have known Ed. I am honored that he asked about me in his last week of life. I am thrilled that I was able to speak to him and sing to him at his dying, even from a distance, via telephone. I praise God for giving Ed to us. I thank God for being faithful and not allowing suffering and death to have the last laugh. As God always gets the last laugh, and Ed is now with God, I am fairly sure they are howling together in eternity. We will see him again and join in the celebration! Fr. Phillip##imported-begin##Rev. “ To the Wyszynski family: Prof. Wyszynski was my professor for Moot Court. I spent many hours just talking to him and learning from him. He was a wealth of knowledge and will be greatly missed. By far, one of the nicest people I have met. My thoughts and prayers are with you all!

“ Kay, It has been a while. Deepest sympathy on the transition of your beloved husband. My Mom transitioned in August 2007, and it was a surreal experience for me. Please call me if you ever need to talk. Ed was loved by many. He is missed I am sure.
