“ One of my favorites...we were coming home from working at Lansing General. She was driving her convertible, a rip started in the top and it started to rain. We were going to be soaked. I had an umbrella, I put it through the hole, opened it and held it there till we got home. We laughed, so hard, all the way home. I can still hear her laughing. I will cherish that and many more memories of her, going forward, knowing we will meet again...my love to you, sweet Cousin.
