“ Kris was my best friend. We shared so much of our lives together. Her loss leaves a huge hole in my life and in my heart. I loved many things about her. Her laugh, her sarcasm, her intelligence and her compassion for people and animals. She was so engaged in our lives, always wanting the best for those around her. I know she has reunited with her dad, Don and other friends and family that went before us. She is also reunited with her fur-babies Casey, Ranger, and all the others I can't name right now. I remember trips up north to Skip and Sal's cottage, to California, Tennessee, and Chicago. Plus, our bar nights, hotel parties with your MRI friends, bon fires at your house were always fun. You were a fun person to be with, and I am so saddened you left us too soon. You were there by my side when I got married, you were at the airport when we adopted our baby girl from Korea, and you were there when I gave birth to Ryan . You were there for me when my dad died. I can't thank you enough for being a HUGE part of my life. I love you and miss you terribly already. My life will be a duller place without your colorful words of wisdom and your humor. Be at peace, my lovely friend, I will see you again. In the meantime, I will be comforted knowing you will be with me in spirit. Love you always.

“ In honor of my dear friend, affectionately referred to as "Krissy-Pooh!" I will tremendously miss our lengthy conversations filled with much solving of world problems, your sharp wit, clever perspective, open mind and never-ending unconditional kindness. You were one in a million my dear and I'm thankful for the time we had. I know you are with your dad, beloved pets from over the years and most profound, in the soul, hearts and minds of those you privately held close during your time on earth. Everytime I here someone verbally express, "hi honey," "oh for g's sake" or "well" (with full respiratory exhalation), I'll know it's you! Your infectious laughter, smile, button brown eyes and jovial yet mischievous "attitude" will always be dear to my heart. With much love and deepest condolences to all family and friends, especially Karen, David, Amy and Diana, rest in peace and hope to catch you on the flip side!

“ Kris and I met at Sparrow working together at Michigan MRI. We had a lot of good times. Later when I started my own business (The Peanut Gallery) in Grand Ledge every Friday on her day off she would come down and help me at the shop. She and her mom had my family over for Easter dinner one year. So gracious of them to have us. She was a good friend.. We lost touch thru the years but recently connected on facebook. Her dedication to the pet rescue was amazing. My thoughts and prayers are with you Karen and your family. God Bless.

“ I was shocked to see Kris had passed. We graduated high school together. She & I met through the band program. Kris with her flute and I a percussionist. Later in college, we got to know each other better. We had MANY fun times. Unfortunately, we lost touch in later years. I will remember her with great love. Chuck Byam

“ I am deeply saddened by the loss of Kris. Her heart was so loving, giving and kind. I will always remember her by her beautiful smile, the one that showed just a hint of mischief and lit up her entire face. Fond memories of sharing time together in school and later through working at some of the same places. Kris will be greatly missed by many. My most heartfelt condolences to the family, Pete, Dave, Pam, and Mom.
