“ I'm so saddened to read this. In recent years, I had lost track of where Mazie was at, especially since Mom (EvaBelle) died, but have fond memories of her and of course all of the Wards. The old neighborhood just isn't the same....

XOXOXO

“ Mazie lived at Independence Village where I worked as her aide. She was a very caring lady she loved to be updated on the events of the "outside world" she called it. We talked all the time, and she taught me so much in the little time I had known her. She would give me advice on all things that crossed our minds and I cherished our mornings together. I loved our strolls around the building on warm summer days...

Rest easy my dear, I will miss you so very much!
