“ I remember when I was working for Ward Electric. I saw Pat and thought he was going to be tough to work with, but that was the total opposite of how he was. He shared his trailer with me and, I swear we had two weeks of the BEST jokes and we got the job done. He always called me "Wardele" because my license plate said that (Ward Electric). I did talk to him after his medical episode and I always said I would visit and now I find this out. So sadly missed, and LOVED.

God Bless,
